MARK YOUR CALENDAR TO ATTEND THIS IMPORTANT MESOTHELIOMA MEETING!

The iMig 2016 Conference will present the latest scientific and clinical information on Mesothelioma and will bring together established as well as early scientists from various disciplines from all over the world who have interest in the disease and collaboration. More than 500 delegates from around the world are expected to join us in Birmingham. The Conference will provide the ideal forum to stimulate ideas and establish collaborations as well as to initiate intense discussions. Extended networking opportunities will foster communications between delegates. This is an exciting time in Mesothelioma in the UK and we hope to see you in Birmingham in 2016 for the iMig 2016 Conference.

Special sessions will be designed to educate and provide guidance to young scientists. We will also continue with the implementation of special sessions for nurses, allied health professionals and advocacy members.
